This year, Regent Hong Kong joined hands with Hong Kong Design Centre to champion design innovation and social value. Committed to fostering collaboration opportunities for local designers, the Centre introduced a vibrant lineup of creative talents to the hotel—an initiative that resonated deeply with the hotel's own vision. Ultimately, Regent Hong Kong invited local design studio Wholly Wholly to craft a bespoke gift box that celebrates the festive spirit and evokes the magic of the season.

Golden reindeer shimmer in the glow of the festive seasons, their warmth intertwined as they gracefully traverse the snow-embossed crimson light. As they gallop, winter's warmth weaves beautifully like delicate threads; transparent, foiled snowflakes glimmer softly, embodying the fairytale whispers of light and shadow, carrying blessings and joy with every gift.

Every gift tells a story of tradition and care — from an enchanting selection of homemade Christmas cakes and pastries by Executive Pastry Chef Andy Yeung to a thoughtfully curated range of festive hampers. Each piece is a work of artistry, capturing the feeling of homecoming—moments wrapped in love, connection, and the timeless charm of the season.
